Counsel

Biography

Will Reisinger is a counsel in the firm with a practice in energy law, energy regulation, and commercial litigation. Will regularly represents business clients and non-profit organizations in energy-related matters.

Will joined the firm after serving for four and a half years as an Assistant Attorney General in the Office of the Virginia Attorney General. His work in the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel included representing ratepayers in energy and utility matters before the Virginia State Corporation Commission, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, and the Supreme Court of Virginia.

Prior to joining the Attorney General's Office, Will was a staff attorney for a non-profit environmental organization where he worked to enforce state and federal environmental standards.

Will sits on the governing boards for the administrative law sections of the Virginia State Bar and the Virginia Bar Association. In 2015, he was appointed by Governor McAuliffe to serve on Virginia's first Executive Committee on Energy Efficiency. In 2016, he was recognized as the A.L. Mitchell Young Alumnus of the Year by the Emory & Henry College Alumni Association and was named to Virginia Business magazine's "Legal Elite" in the category of Legislative/Regulatory/Administrative law.
